PLACES ON THIS TRIP

- Kok-Tobe: Kok-Tobe is a mountain in Almaty, 1,100 metres above sea level. A cable car goes up to a recreation area with rides and restaurants.
- Panfilov Park: Panfilov Park is in the centre of Almaty. The park has Zenkov Cathedral, a Russian Orthodox church from the tsarist period with bright yellow towers.
- Green Bazaar: The Green Bazaar is a local market in Almaty. You can buy dry fruits and souvenirs here.
- Medeu: Medeu is a gorge in the Trans-Ili Alatau mountains near Almaty. It has a high-mountain skating rink and a dam that protects the city from mudflows.
- Shymbulak: Shymbulak is a ski resort at 2,230 metres above sea level. It has a mild climate, many sunny days and snow through the winter.
- Kolsai Lakes: The Kolsai Lakes are three alpine lakes in the Kolsai-Kolderi National Park, near the border with Kyrgyzstan. The drive from Almaty is about 330 km and takes 3 to 4 hours.
- Charyn Canyon: Charyn Canyon follows the Charyn River for about 80 km in the semi-desert east of Almaty. Water and wind cut its red sandstone walls, which are 150 to 300 metres deep in places.
