PLACES ON THIS TRIP

- Putrajaya: Putrajaya is the administrative capital of Malaysia, with government buildings, lakes, bridges and gardens. The tour stops here for photos at Putra Mosque.
- Petronas Twin Towers: The Petronas Twin Towers are a landmark of Kuala Lumpur. The night tour stops to see and photograph the lit towers.
- River of Life: River of Life is a waterfront where the Klang and Gombak rivers meet. Its promenade is lit at night.
- Batu Caves: Batu Caves is a Hindu pilgrimage site in limestone caves, with a 42.7-metre golden statue of Lord Murugan. A colourful staircase goes up to the cave temple.
- Genting Highlands: Genting Highlands is a mountain resort about 6,000 feet above sea level. The tour uses the Genting Skyway cable car over tropical rainforest, and Resorts World Genting has shops, restaurants and entertainment.
- Dataran Merdeka: Dataran Merdeka (Independence Square) is where Malaysia declared independence in 1957. The Sultan Abdul Samad Building and other colonial-era buildings are here.
- Thean Hou Temple: Thean Hou Temple is a large Chinese temple in Kuala Lumpur. It is known for its architecture, carvings and decorations.
- Petaling Street: Petaling Street is in Kuala Lumpur's Chinatown. It is known for bargain shopping, souvenirs, handicrafts, fashion accessories and traditional snacks.
