PLACES ON THIS TRIP

- Kamakhya Temple: Kamakhya Temple is a Hindu temple on Nilachal Hill in Guwahati, dedicated to the goddess Kamakhya. It is an old and important centre of Tantric practice.
- Ugratara Temple: Ugratara Temple is a Shakti shrine in Uzan Bazaar, near the Jor Pukhuri tank. The sanctum has no idol, and devotees worship a small pit of water as the goddess Ugratara.
- Navagraha Temple: Navagraha Temple is an old Hindu shrine on Chitrasal Hill in the Silpukhuri and Chandmari area. It is dedicated to the nine celestial bodies of Hindu astronomy and astrology.
- Srimanta Sankardev Kalakshetra: Srimanta Sankardev Kalakshetra is a cultural centre named after Srimanta Sankardeva, the Assamese saint, poet, scholar and social reformer. It shows the culture, traditions, art and history of Assam and Northeast India.
- Sukreswar Temple: Sukreswar Temple is an 18th-century Shiva temple on the bank of the Brahmaputra River. Ahom King Pramatta Singha built it in 1744, and it has a large Shiva lingam.
- Basistha Temple: Basistha Temple is an old Hindu temple in the Basistha area of Guwahati, among green hills and forest. It is dedicated to Sage Vashistha.
- Deepor Beel: Deepor Beel is a freshwater wetland on the south-west edge of Guwahati. It is a Ramsar Wetland of International Importance.
- Guwahati Ropeway: The Guwahati Ropeway crosses the Brahmaputra River between Guwahati city and North Guwahati. It gives views of the river, the hills and the city.
